

CurlSask Provincial Mixed Curling Championships

Prince Albert Golf & Curling Club

March 21 – 25, 2018

96 of Saskatchewan's top curling superstars will gather in Prince Albert March 21 – 25, 2018 for the Mixed Provincial Curling Championships. The announcement was made Friday, Jan 12 at the Prince Albert Golf & Curling Club (PAG&CC). The winner of this event will represent Saskatchewan at the National Mixed in November of 2018.

This year constitutes a new format for the mixed championships. It is a direct entry to provincials; no club, zone or regional playdowns. The first 24 teams to enter will make up the field vying to wear the green and white. With the growth of mixed doubles as an Olympic event the host committee hopes that has a spin off effect to attract the top 24 teams to our venue.

These types of events are very beneficial to both PAG&CC and our city. Being chosen as a host does not happen strictly by accident – our city and more specifically our club has a long and proud heritage of hosting major national and provincial events. Recent history had our club hosting the one and only ever Men's and Women's Northern Playdowns on back to back weekends in January 2015. One year later our club hosted a very successful 2016 provincial Scotties. PAG&CC last hosted the Mixed Provincials in 2000 which was won by Scott Coghlan, Kim Hodson, Murray Humble and Laurie Secord-Humble.
